DETAILED ACTION

1. The Examiner has carefully considered Applicant's amendment and accompanying remarks filed February 13, 2007. In view of Applicant's amendment and accompanying remarks, all previously set forth rejections have been withdrawn. However, after an updated search, additional prior art has been found which renders the invention as currently claimed unpatentable for reasons herein below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Baychar (US 2005/0214501). Baychar discloses a waterproof and breathable technical apparel. The apparel is constructed from various combinations of layers of materials with moisture transfer properties, i.e. moisture vapor permeable (abstract). The apparel comprises a netting layer that provides structural support for the apparel and may abut or be included in any of the foam or nonwoven layers in the invention [0059 & 0069]. The third layer comprises a polyurethane film [0080]. A breathable membrane is adjacent to the polyurethane film layer and comprises a nonwoven material [0082]. Therefore, the composite of Baychar comprises a netting material, a polyurethane film layer, and a nonwoven layer, as required by the present invention.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 12-20 and 23-29 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: no prior art was found to teach the limitations of the dependent claims in combination with the limitations set forth in the independent claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 11 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
